EBSCO provide access to 22 different databases. These databases cover a range of subject areas but all share a similar search interface:

When off-campus you may be asked for additional logins.

Depending on how your device is set up, you may see this screen:

Just add in your student/staff number and normal password and select the ‘Click Here to continue’ link on the following screen:
If that doesn’t take you to the resource you want, go back and click on the Library Databases link from the Library or Portal pages and select your database again – this time you will get in.

Alternatively, you may see this (or similar) screen:

Maximise the pop-up login window fully as the Athens link may not be visible in the minimized version. Then select Athens and you should be directed to the resource.
